

Tic Tac Toe

A general “3 in a row” or “noughts and crosses” game board for either laminating for re-use or photocopying. Use as a quick activity to practise anything! For example:

Reading letters (write the letters on the boxes in advance, and take turns to read one - if correct you can mark the square)

Writing letters - as above

Reading words (write words on the boxes in advance, and take turns to read one - if correct you can mark the square)

Writing words - as above

Using word cards (players take turns to pick up word cards and if correct they take a turn on the board)
